

Centurion Kennels from time to time have trained dogs or puppies for sale. These dogs or puppies are recommended to the general public with full and complete disclosure. I am only interested in the honest approach in making an excellent match for you and your family. I have provided the very best dog's for many people, dating back to 1992, when my breeding program was in operation. My experience and expertise goes far beyond many of the "trainers and breeders" now days. During the last three decades I have been both. This has uniquely qualified me to help you find that "best dog you will ever own"
